

Description of Project

Overall idea of m project is a website that will bring friends together online in order to plan parties/get-togethers mostly for the reason to play board games and/or card games. The user will create an account of log in to their existing account when first greeted by the website. Once they are signed into their personal account, they are able to find and/or contact friends through their interface. From their personal profile, they are then able to create new parties and/or contribute ideas to existing created parties by their friends. Another action they can perform is research new board games or card games through the website, and will be able to have access to outside links for certain games' rules and also links to where to buy a particular game by Amazon. On top of that, the user will be able to record and keep track of previously played games with friends from earlier parties, such as wins, loses, and ties among one another, and also who was also playing just for the record.
