

Outcomes:

The outcomes for the program were specific, measureable and relevant to the program.

Program Description:

Activities and experiences used effectively to meet program outcomes.

The activities and experiences demonstrate good sequencing and utilize the Experiential Learning Cycle.

There is appropriate and effective use of reflection throughout the program.

The program is of adequate length, duration and frequency to meet expressed outcomes.

There is demonstrated use of facilitation to achieve outcomes.

Use of Risk:

Risk is used effectively as a programming component.

Application of the Accident Potential Model.

Identified appropriate SOP's for the program.

In General:

The program was realistic and appropriate for the population.

The program is such that it will change the way people think or act.

The program effectively uses adventure to achieve its outcomes.